

WORKPLACE VIOLENCE: STRATEGIES FOR PREVENTION

Because of the economy and current social pressures, workplace violence incidents are on the rise. We regularly read about situations in which former employees or disgruntled clients engage in violent attacks on the workplace. In addition, bullying and intimidation, which can destroy morale and productivity, is common. Through interactive dialogue and case studies, this seminar provides attendees with the tools they need to recognize the triggers for violent conduct, offers strategies for prevention, and addresses common misconceptions about workplace violence. All employees are encouraged to attend.
